Green Flag – EcoCampus Certification
For École d'Hôtellerie et de Tourisme Paul Dubrulle (EHT)
By the Foundation of Environmental Education (FEE)

EcoCampus Overview

The EcoCampus program is holistic, aligned with the United National Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It aims to make awareness and action toward sustainability an intrinsic part of the life and ethos of an educational institution. It endeavours to develop responsible attitudes and commitment that can be spread outside the campus. Furthermore, the certification is not awarded for acting only on operational elements (like water or energy saving, waste reducing actions), but to equip students and staff with critical competencies in many social areas, knowledge regarding critical issues of sustainability, and positive behavioural disposition that they take to their future workplace and become agents of change in their communities. The program is based on the EU EMAS (Eco-Management and Auditing System), and the seven steps align with the 'plan-do-check-act' management method used in ISO 14001:2000 Environmental Management System Standards.

Over the past 2 years, EHT Paul Dubrulle has been implementing the EcoCampus program. Each year, new students volunteer to be part of the Eco-Committee, including some staff members and EHT alumni. The Eco-Committee will take over the results achieved by the previous year's committee defining their new baseline and set new targets to work towards, constantly improving aspects related to the 9 themes (Biodiversity, Climate Change / Pollution and Transportation, Education & Communication, Equity & Equality, Food & Supply Chain, Health & Well-being, Resources and Water Consumption, and Waste Management).

We are the first TVET institution in hospitality and tourism in the world to obtain the Green Flag – EcoCampus certification. This achievement is also a national success as Cambodia is the first country in the world to achieve this international certification at the TVET level of education.
